FROM WASHINGTON.

INCIDENTS AND GOSSIP.

WASHINGTON, December 18.—The Senate was not in session to-day.

HOUSE.
On motion of Mr. Ward, of Indiana, Senate amendments to House bill authorizing the employment of mail messengers in the postal service were non-concurred in, and a conference ordered.

The Speaker appointed Mr. Bacon, of New York, to fill the vacancies on the Committee on Banking and Currency and expenditures on the State Department, caused by the death of Mr. Arnot.

Mr. Dibble, of South Carolina, asked the unanimous consent to put upon its passage the bill appropriating $500,000 for the public building at Charleston, S. C.

Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, argued on the ground that in view of the recent experience of that city this was not the time to appropriate five hundred thousand dollars for the erection of a new building.

Mr. Dibble remarked that if the bill was not passed the Government would have to transact its business in open air.

Mr. Morrison at 1:37 P. M. moved that the House go into the committee of the whole upon the tariff bill.

"And," said Mr. McKinley, of Ohio, "on that I demand the yeas and nays."

The vote resulted: Ayes, 149; noes, 154. The Virginia delegates voted aye except Mr. Brady who voted no, and Mr. Tucker who was paired. He would have voted aye. Every member of the House was present or accounted for. Owing to deaths there were only 322 members at this time. Had the five absent members been present to vote the result would have been ayes 153, noes 155. Of the dead members one favored and two opposed the measure; so with the seven pairs announced on a full vote of the House as it was last session it would have been ayes 161, noes 164. Twenty-six Democrats voted no, only five (Martin, of Alabama, and four from Louisiana) from the South. Only six Republicans voted for consideration.

For the most part the men who voted against consideration last session did the same this time. Exceptions were: T. J. Campbell, Findlay, Pindar, Viele, Democrats, who voted with Mr. Randall before and this time with Mr. Morrison. Mr. Jones, who voted with Mr. Morrison, was against him this time. Hayden, Stone, of Massachusetts, Republicans, who formerly voted with the protectionists, voted for consideration in this instance.

FACTS AND HEARSAYS.
The House Military Committee yesterday made a favorable report on the Military Academy bill.

Senator Cheney has been appointed to succeed the late Senator Pike on the Senate District Committee.

It is rumored that the conference committee on the electoral count bill will accept the House amendments.

The present Chaplain of the House is quite popular with the average Congressmen. His prayers are to the point and short.

Representative Oates, of Alabama, has been called home by the dangerous illness of his wife. Before leaving Mr. Oates paired with Mr. Gallinger.

Representative Hewitt, of New York, was seen for a moment at Wornley's yesterday morning, and expressed the opinion that nothing would be done with the tariff at this session.

The House Banking Committee has requested Comptroller Trenchum to draft a bill relative to the Freedman's Bank depositors and report at the first meeting of the committee in January.

The members of the House could get their minds on little else but tariff Saturday morning. There was much excitement, doubt and anxiety, the Morrison men being, as a rule, out of hope.

The Secretary of War Saturday transmitted to Congress deficiency estimates aggregating $37,165 in the appropriations for the signal service for the current fiscal year. The largest items are $23,770 for observation and report of storms, and $5,000 for military telegraph line.

In the House yesterday afternoon, after the attempt to take up the tariff bill, Mr. Crisp tried to get up the Pacific railroad funding bill.

The attempt was not a success, as on a filibustering motion of Mr. Springer, the House, at 2:15, adjourned.

The President approved two bills Friday evening, the first of the present session. They were: The joint resolution authorizing and directing the payment of the salaries of the officers and employees of Congress for December, and the act providing for the adjustment of matters connected with certain judicial proceedings in Pennsylvania, in which the United States was a party.

Not Opposed.
PHILADELPHIA, December 18.—The action of the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor in issuing the circular requiring a special assessment of twenty-five cents from each member causes in many quarters expressions of disapproval.

THE EVENTS OF A DAY AS WIRED FROM AT HOME AND ABROAD.

Shooting of a Polygamist—Not Opposed—A Texas Fire. Hewitt's Farewell—A Fatal Shot—The Tables Turned—Woollen Mill Burned—Death of the Oldest Psi Upsilon.

The Shooting of Polygamist Dalton.
SALT LAKE, UTAH, December 18. Deputy Marshal Thompson, who shot Dalton, at Parowan Thursday, while the latter was trying to escape arrest for unlawful cohabitation, was taken to Beaver for examination. The officer says he intended merely to shoot over Dalton, not to hit him. Dalton had twice escaped after being arrested, and sent the deputies word if they wanted him to "come well heeled." He would get away with them and would not be taken alive. The excitement has subsided.

A FATAL SHOT.
Another Inhuman Father's Attempt to Kill His Wife and Daughters.

ERIE, PA., December 18.—Christian F. Schau, a tailor, shot his daughters, Minnie and Annie, this afternoon, killing the former outright, fatally wounding the latter, and in attempting to escape shot at a policeman, who finally clubbed Schau senseless and effected his arrest.

The family resided in a cottage on West Third street, and consisted of Schau, his wife and nine children. Minnie and Annie, aged respectively 22 and 20, being prepossessing young ladies. While the family were seated at dinner Schau arose, locked the door, drew two revolvers, and assaulted his wife. His daughters seized his arms as he was about to blow their mother's brains out. The mother tore herself from the grasp on her throat, which was terribly lacerated, opened the door and ran screaming from the room, followed by several shots from her husband's revolver. Failing to bring down his wife, Schau turned on his daughters and shot both. Schau was making for the outskirts of the city, when officer Higgins arrested him. Schau defied the officer and fired at him but without effect. He then turned the pistol to his own head and snapped it ineffectively. The officer's men laid him senseless. While on the way to the jail a crowd of indignant citizens made a rush for Schau with cries of "Hang him!" "Knock his brains out," etc. Other officers came to the rescue and drove the crowd back and the prisoner was safely landed in jail. Schau was very cool and showed no penitence. Later in the day he was prevented from suiciding in his cell by the timely arrival of an officer. He afterwards broke down and cried bitterly. Schau is a man of 45, and has a record in the Criminal Court. Mrs. Schau is suffering terribly from her inhuman treatment.

A HORRID STORY.
Brutal Work of a Fiendish Father.

DETROIT, Mich., December 18.—Yesterday a neighbor burst open a door in the house of Thomas Greers, at 456 Woodbridge street, and found lying with the children upon a bed the father, crazy drunk.

The cold, naked, and bloody body of a child lay on the floor—a girl 3 years old was dead; a boy 8 years old was strangling to death of scarlet fever, and the other children—a girl of 5 and a boy 1 year old—were so ill with scarlet fever that they could not move. The mother died a week ago during child birth. The brutal father seemed soaked in liquor. The body of the girl on the floor was swollen and discolored as if by beating. The children are not expected to live. Greers was arrested.

A Gas Story from Indiana.
KOKOMO, IND., December 18.—The Kokomo Natural Gas and Oil Company struck in immense volume of gas yesterday morning, which had been escaping all day. About 3:30 P. M., while the workmen were withdrawing the drill, the escaping gas was ignited in some way, setting fire to the derrick and buildings. The enclosure was filled with about thirty five men, twenty nine of whom were knocked down and burned more or less. Eleven are seriously hurt, although it is believed not fatally.

A Woollen Mill Burned.
GULFORD, ME., December 18.—The woollen mill of William P. Appleyard, in Gulford village, was burned at 6 o'clock this morning. The fire caught as the mill was being lighted up for work from a lamp in the card-room. The wheel-house, the brick boiler-house and store-house are the only buildings uninjured. The loss will reach $40,000.

A Texas Fire.
TERRELL, TEXAS, December 18.—A destructive fire started yesterday in Portwood & Cowles' warehouse, containing in round numbers 1,250 bales of cotton, all of which, together with two adjoining frame dwellings, were destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $60,000; insurance, $30,000. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

LATEST FOREIGN NEWS.

The Anti-Austrian Alliance.
PARIS, December 18.—The Journal des Debats publishes a dispatch from Berlin stating that Germany, France, Russia, and Turkey are in complete accord on the Bulgarian question. The dispatch adds that Turkey is to continue to have the initiative in advancing proposals respecting Bulgaria, and that the three other powers named are to accept proposals as made, but does not say whether or not there is to be a previous understanding as to the nature of what will be proposed. In addition to the foregoing the Debats' telegrams contain a statement that Germany has advised Austria to join in supporting Turkey's proposals and refused to guarantee her against the consequences of a double-dealing policy.

The Gossip of London.
LONDON, December 18.—In response to the Glasgow circular concerning Walt Whitman's alleged need, the Pall Mall Gazette invited its readers to send him fifty pounds as a Christmas present. Although the next day an interview with Whitman was called to London and the Pall Mall Gazette drew attention to the exaggerations of the Glasgow statement, gifts amounting to £60 have been already received and will be forwarded to Whitman so as to reach him New Year's day.

Mrs. Olyphant's life of Principal Tulloch will be ready at Easter next.

W. A. Allen is about to publish two volumes of a history of the United States by Percy Greg, who is known as the author of a volume of verse called "Interleaves." Greg was a strong sympathizer with the South.

C. Kinloch Cooke will publish through MacMillan a memoir of Sir Peter Scratchley, late high commissioner of New Guinea. Cooke has made a special study of Pacific questions. Scratchley's papers have been placed in his hands.

It is said Ernest Coleridge's life of Samuel Taylor Coleridge is likely to be published early next year. Hall Caine's short biography of Coleridge is announced for January 20.

The Queen's Donation.
LONDON, December 18.—The Queen has donated £100 to the fund for the relief of the families of the men who were drowned by the wrecking of the three life-boats off South Port last week.

A Colored Man and a White Woman Sent to Prison for Having Married in Maryland.

HAGERSTOWN, MD., December 18.—Joseph H. Woods, a colored man, was yesterday sentenced to eighteen months in the penitentiary for marrying Anna Nicodemus, a white woman, and the same penalty was imposed on her. This is the first case of the kind in which the law has been tested in this State, and the fight was made as to the construction to be placed on the fifteenth amendment.

Accident on the Norfolk and Western.
LYNCHBURG, VA., December 18.—Passenger train No. 1 on the Eastern Division of the Norfolk and Western railroad, due here at 12:53 Thursday night, ran into the caboose of a freight train about five miles below this city. Engineer A. L. Gates was badly cut about the face, head and hands. No other damage of consequence was done. The accident happened on a curve and was entirely unavoidable.

"Mamma's Baby Boy" Saved.
BAYOU SARA, December 18.—A little boy, three years old, who was on board the ill-fated steamboat J. M. White, was saved by a colored woman, who was fortunate enough to get hold of a floating log, and landed about a mile below the wreck. Although the woman made every effort to ascertain who he was, her endeavors were unsuccessful. He was undoubtedly a deck passenger, and the remainder of his family were lost. The child is too young to give his name. When asked, "Whose boy are you?" he replied, "Mamma's."

A Ghastly Welcome.
CHICAGO, ILL., December 18.—When Joseph Kosa, a cutter employed in a Clark-street tailor shop, returned to his home Friday night he found the door leading to his flat locked and barred. When the door was finally forced a terrible sight met his eyes. The bodies of his wife, Antonie, and his 13-months-old child were dangling from the transom of the bed-room door, suspended by pieces of shawl straps. It is supposed that the woman was temporarily insane.

Mr. Hewitt's Farewell.
WASHINGTON, December 18.—The banquet given to-night by the Democrats and Republicans of the New York State delegation in Congress to Hon. A. S. Hewitt was a grand affair. Outside of the State delegation there were present Speaker Carlisle and Congressmen Randall and Morrison.

The Tables Turned.
NEW YORK, December 18.—Vickerman and Nesbitt, the two Nassau-street tailors who were arrested yesterday and held in $5,000 each for slander on Jacob Rosenberg, late juror in the McQuade trial, are still in Ludlow-street jail, being unable to find bail, which Judge Barrett required they should furnish before they can be released.
